About This is a simple and pure take on Tetris. The games are easy to learn, and it's hard to master. Controls - Up - Jump - Down - Drop - Left - Launch left - Right - Launch right - A - Launch at full speed - B - Cancel - Touch-screen - Launch at full speed Gameplay The aim of the game is to complete lines of blocks. The catch is, they must form a straight horizontal or vertical line, and any line that connects a block to itself (a line that only touches itself once at the center) is counted as a bad line. The blocks can only use a single direction of rotation and fall in a single direction to complete a line, but more than one block can be at the center of the line. If the line is completed, the blocks above and below move on their own, and this continues until the line is completed or the blocks fall off of the playfield. When a new block is placed, a new line is started. The new line continues from wherever the last block of a line was. The game ends when all blocks are removed, or if any blocks of a line touch the top of the playfield. A good strategy to create lines is to use blocks that touch the top of a line, as these blocks will be the last block of the line to move out of position. This will help you to make a vertical line and catch a falling block. As a new line is formed, a

Tokiwa has a background of making games since the age of 8. He has a love for combining the cinematic quality of a comic with the writing and storytelling of a visual novel in the same game. In 2012 he published his first game, "Fairy Tales from the Enchanted King", a role-playing adventure visual novel containing three stories to play, featuring illustrations by renowned artists and animated sprites, music and sound effects. His other works include "Knights of the Loyal Order", a fantasy adventure game which was featured in Machinima "The Freelance" community and "The Smashers", a fighting game featuring hand-drawn sprites and custom game mechanics. From 2013-2015 Tokiwa graduated from Nara Institute of Technology, where he was a student of Game Design. While he is still an active member of the Game Design club he decided to experiment with a genre where he never worked on before, the RPG Maker Visual Novel. He played quite a few visual novels and decided to pick a fan-favorite series to adapt. With the help of his friend's musically gifted sister he collaborated with a local musician to compose a soundtrack for this visual novel. Then he went back to his studio and designed the artstyle for this visual novel, which is now in the process of getting approved by the studio for a full-fledged localization! TOKIWA GRAPHICS has helped thousands of indie game developers across the world gain a foothold in the industry. They are now working hard to bring the most recent and creative techniques to the indie game development world, in hopes of taking it to the next level. War's a fickle thing, like love, mostly. It's this weird combination of fact and fantasy. It's an amorphous blob of everything we hold close to our hearts, yet it keeps falling apart. Such is the case with war. It's not really a thing. It's an idea. A rumor. A promise. A vague, but alluring, unknown. So when it goes down, it goes down hard, and it's our job to lead it where it needs to go. It's our job to point the way to the people we love. But you've got to lead it, first. For so many, this time of year is a moment when the fear and excitement of war unsettle minds. For some, it's the idea of their loved ones getting caught in the crossfire. For others, it's the idea that the revolution will c9d1549cdd

===== The Admin is the story of an android cyborg who has lost his identity as a living human. With all his identity gone, he must find a way to protect the last thing left for him : the research facility. ===== THE WAY TO PLAY ===== In the beginning, you will be given a pistol and a sword with 3 weapons right away. You will also have 3 skills, a jump, a dash attack and an alternate firing mode. Simply to keep the enemies away from your location, you can use these skills and use them in a manner that will allow you to defend your opponent. The first time you jump, you can jump over an enemy standing in front of you. But the moment they evade the first jump, you will have to use the dash attack, which you can shoot, and destroy the enemy in the close range that is left on their evasion time. If it is not enough to kill the enemy, you can use the alternate firing mode to shoot out a huge gun shell on their evasion time, at their evasion area. This will not be enough to fight most of the enemies however, and you will need to have some more weapons. Each time you will get a new weapon, you will need to unlock it. This will be done by beating boss battles in the facility. And you will get another weapon for every boss battle. If you have cleared 10 bosses, you will get a new weapon. If you reached 25 bosses, you will get a new weapon, and so on. Each weapon will have it's own characteristics and properties. There are also other weapons that can be gathered along the way which you can use right away. After your journey starts, you will have a new skill bar, which can be upgraded and evolved to increase its level. You can buy upgrading materials using the money gathered by defeating enemies. A certain amount of money will be gained every time you kill a certain type of enemy. When a certain point in the story is reached, you will receive a more powerful weapon. This weapon will be stronger than the previous weapon you have and can be upgraded in various ways. You will be given an inventory in the beginning, and you can add weapons to it by defeating enemies. The Inventory is also where your HP and Skill are kept. Gathering crafting materials will not be available when you first take the starting weapons and skills. To get the materials, you will have to fight and defeat enemies in the facility to gather materials.
