When I change the collation of the table to utf8_general_ci it does not behave this way, however. Is there a way to force the query to only use the default collation? MySQL version: Server version: 5.7.12-log Protocol version: 10 A: From the docs: In all cases where the ORDER BY and LIMIT clauses are used together, the order by clause determines the retrieval order. To prevent MySQL from returning results in any other ordering than the order specified in the ORDER BY clause, you can use an explicit ORDER BY: SELECT TOP 3 * FROM mytable ORDER BY ID DESC If you do not need to ORDER BY, then just omit the ORDER BY clause entirely: SELECT TOP 3 * FROM mytable Q: Moving the php file to server directory causes error It has been 2 days that I am trying to solve this issue. I have this error in many of my php projects. Warning: include(./ClientApp/Class.php) [function.include]: failed to open stream: No such file or directory in.../Base.php on line 35 It doesn't seem to be in any other classes that use require_once("ClientApp/Class.php"), and the app/ClientApp/Class.php is located in the server/php/ folder. Any idea why this is happening? EDIT: The folder structure is app - ClientApp
